

WOMAN CAPTURES THIEF AS HE SINGS HYMNS IN MISSION

Free-for-All Fight Interrupts Rescue Service, as Mrs. Christopher Accuses Worshipper.

William Paul, thirty-three years old, went to the Rescue Mission at No. 370 Bedford avenue, Williamsburg, last night. There, in the dawn of the new year, men and women were seeking salvation. They raised their souls in song, they listened to the words of good men and women and some of them told their experiences.

William Paul did not tell his experience. He listened to the others and joined in the singing. His voice was one of the deepest and loudest. Others listened as his big bass voice swelled the strains of "We Will Gather at the River" and "Throw Out the Life Line."

One of those who attended service was Mrs. Louise Christopher, who is interested in rescue work. Mrs. Christopher has an apartment at No. 142 North Eleventh street. She saw Paul, when he arose to sing, and there seemed to be something familiar about the face of the man and especially about the gray overcoat he wore. She made her way to him and seized him, crying that he was a thief. The announcement should not have created much surprise, for at the Rescue home gather former criminals and all the down-and-outs. But Paul objected and with some show of force, threw off the detaining hand of the woman.

Mrs. Christopher was not to be denied, though. She seized him with both hands and declared the gray coat belonged to her son.

Paul aimed a blow at his accuser and others jumped for him. The Rescue home was turned into a "rough house." Women screamed and men raised their voices higher than they had in the singing of the hymns. The noise of the commotion was wafted through the doors and out into the street. Detective Kennedy was passing on his way to the Bedford police station. He went in and showed his way to where Paul and the woman were mixing it. He arrested Paul.

Nearly all the attendants at service followed him and his prisoner to the police station, where he was booked for burglary. Mrs. Christopher said this morning in the Manhattan Avenue Police Court that as she was going to her apartment Tuesday night she met Paul coming out. She thought he acted queerly, but he quailed her. When she reached her rooms she found them topsy-turvy and about $70 worth of clothing was missing. In the lot being her son's gray overcoat. She had caught a sight of the burglar's face, she said, and recognized him as soon as she saw him at service. Paul was held for burglary, his examination being set for Monday morning.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save your hair! Danderine destroys dandruff and stops falling hair at once—Grows hair, we prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp, the hair roots fall out and die; then the hair

The body was taken to the High Bridge station.

WOMAN SAVES TWO LIVES.

William Birmirle, sixty-six year old, and his son Otto, twenty-one, were overcome by gas from a leaky stove in the room in which they were asleep last night at No. 151 Boyd avenue, Jersey City.

Mrs. Birmirle, wife of the older and mother of the younger man, detected the odor of gas when she awakened and went to the room in time to save both men's lives. They are in the City Hospital in a serious condition.

Another Great Fur Stock at Exactly Half Price

$46,000 Stock of Furs for $23,000

From Weinberg, McCartie & Brandes, the Famous Furriers of Manhattan

THE UNUSUAL WARM SPELLS OF THIS WINTER have been discouraging to the fur makers of New York. One of the best known fur making concerns is that of Weinberg, McCartie & Brandes, of 129, 131, 133 West Twenty-ninth street, Manhattan, who offered us their stock at 50c. on the dollar. We found it to be the most stylish, practical and best made lot of Coats, Neckpieces and Muffs we have seen in this market and we took our pick of it at the price named for cash. It is offered to you at like reduction—the best investment for you in this city to-day.

While the pieces run up to magnificent effects in the hundreds of dollars, the range embraces the popular priced goods—a beautiful Coat of Russian ponyskin, for instance, at $20.00 that is similar to those selling to-day at $40.00, and the small furs cover almost any price you may be inclined to pay. It is a sale, in fact, that will meet any appropriation, and the saving is phenomenal.

The furs are Hudson Seal, Caracul, Nearsal, Russian Pony, Real Mole, Mole Coney and White Coney in the Coats.
